The

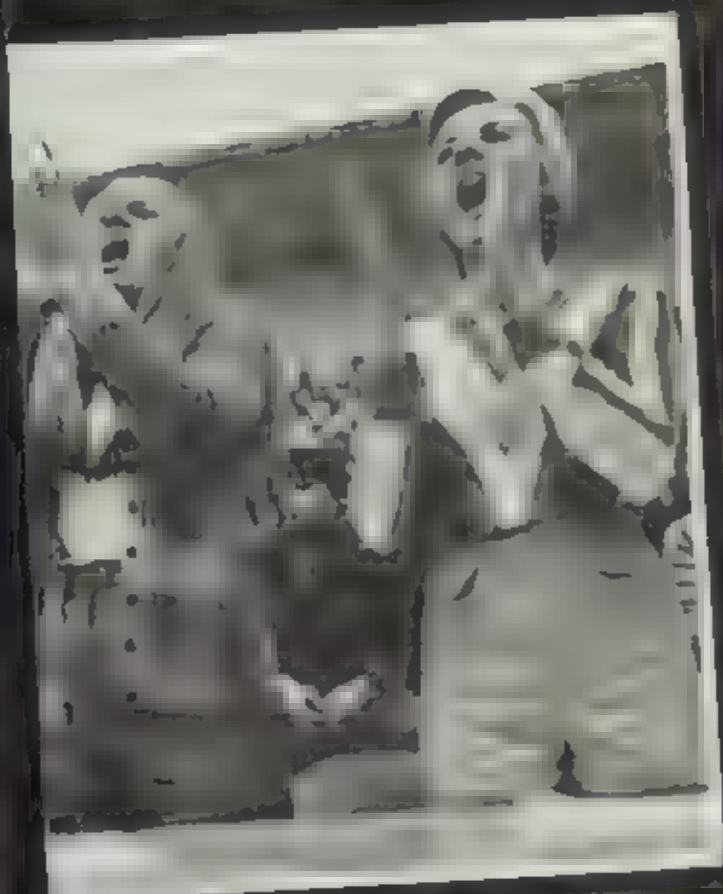

74-75 School Year Shows Dedication in All Events

The 1974-75 school year began rather clear and uncertain for St. Paul High; for with a new principal, new pastor and new head football coach, many things had changed. However, determination and cooperation took over to make it a very successful year.

Sports sort of reflected the over-all success of the year which included Firelands Conference championships in football, and for the first time even in Flyer history, in basketball and golf. Athletics proved to foster the competitive spirit of the school, enabling us to overcome the problems faced throughout the year.

This year meant many different things to different people. For the seniors, it was their last year of high school, and they were sure to miss all the good times they've had. The class of '76 finished their last year as underclassmen and prepare to assume the responsibilities of leading the rest of the student body. The sophomores grew in knowledge, the freshmen found out what high school life was all about. Together with a dedicated and friendly faculty, we all had a very good year.

Marianna's Day

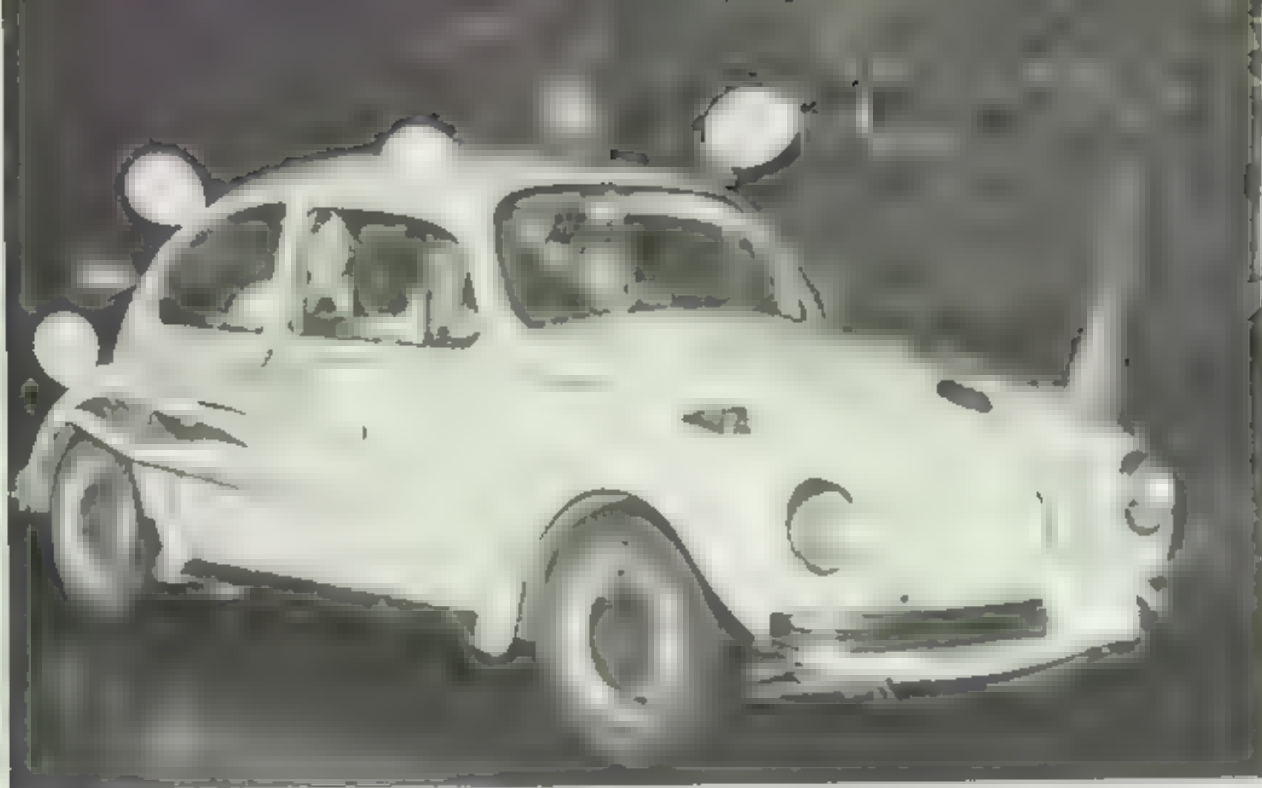

On Thursday morning, October 10, SPH students had their spirits for a Thursday night bonfire dimmed, when their bonfire was burned early. However, seniors worked all day rebuilding for the joyous affair that night.

Following the successful bonfire on Thursday, the student council sponsored a 1950 sock hop in the St. Paul's social hall. All of the student body participated by rocking the night away with the nostalgia beat of Bill Haley and the Comets. The highlight of the homecoming activities was during the sock hop when some of the varsity football players painted the goalposts at Whitney Field the colors of the school: red, white, and black. This was just part of the high spirits celebrated this week in preparation for the big game with Mapleton on Saturday night.

Starting off Saturday night was a parade through downtown Norwalk to Whitney Field, with the police-escorted Flyer bus following close behind. The night was saddened with the Flyers only loss of the season to much improved Mapleton squad.

Nevertheless, spirits were raised as much merriment was celebrated Sunday night at the homecoming dance titled "Days of Future Past."

Officers Prove to Be Leaders, Hard Workers

The senior year for the class of '75 has proved to be one of great success. Under the leadership of Matt Gross and his staff of officers; vice-president Katie Fritz, secretary Margaret Dempsey and treasurer Chris Binsack, the class of '75 has carried on activities such as the pizza drive and a car wash to add to their enormous treasury. These, along with other activities over the four years, will be used to pay for their class trip to Lake Cumberland State Resort Park in Kentucky along with the dinner dance at the Elks and their after prom party at Jolly Lanes.

The senior class this year has rated high scholastically while they also have procured three more conference titles, one in football, golf and basketball.

The unity of this class and their concern for one another along with their co-operation with the faculty and administration truly depict the Christian attitude of our school and should be exemplary for classes that follow for many years to come.

The class of '75 started off their freshman year deciding that by the time they were seniors they wanted to have the largest class treasury in St. Paul history and that they wanted to break the traditional pattern of going on to Ohio Pile for their class trip.

They started right in with a work day which gave them about $150. They added a car wash and several bake sale, to a good sum at the end of the year.

Sophomore year for the class of '75 also was very productive with the help of more bake sale, a birdcage sale, several car washes and a few dances.

During their Junior year the class organized a magazine drive, several paper drives and a first in school history a money making Christmas dance. They raised enough money to purchase a stereo and other furnishings in preparation for their senior year.

The class of '75 has reached both of their goals they broke the record for the largest treasury and they are not going to Ohio Pile.

Class of '75 Says Farewell to St. Paul's

On July twenty-ninth, 1971 tragedy struck the class of '75 as one of its' best loved and most fun-filled member's life was taken from them in a accident.

Charles Douglas Herner could make everyone laugh; he had a glowing personality and a desire to help everyone. Never was a harsh word heard from his mouth about anyone; and never was heard, from those who knew Charlie, a harsh word about him.

Always ready to better himself, he participated in Junior High football, basketball, and track; and he was a hard working and dedicated athlete. Every Saturday in the spring he could be found at the miniature golf course, and everyday of the summer he could be found at the Municipal pool, enjoying the people around him.

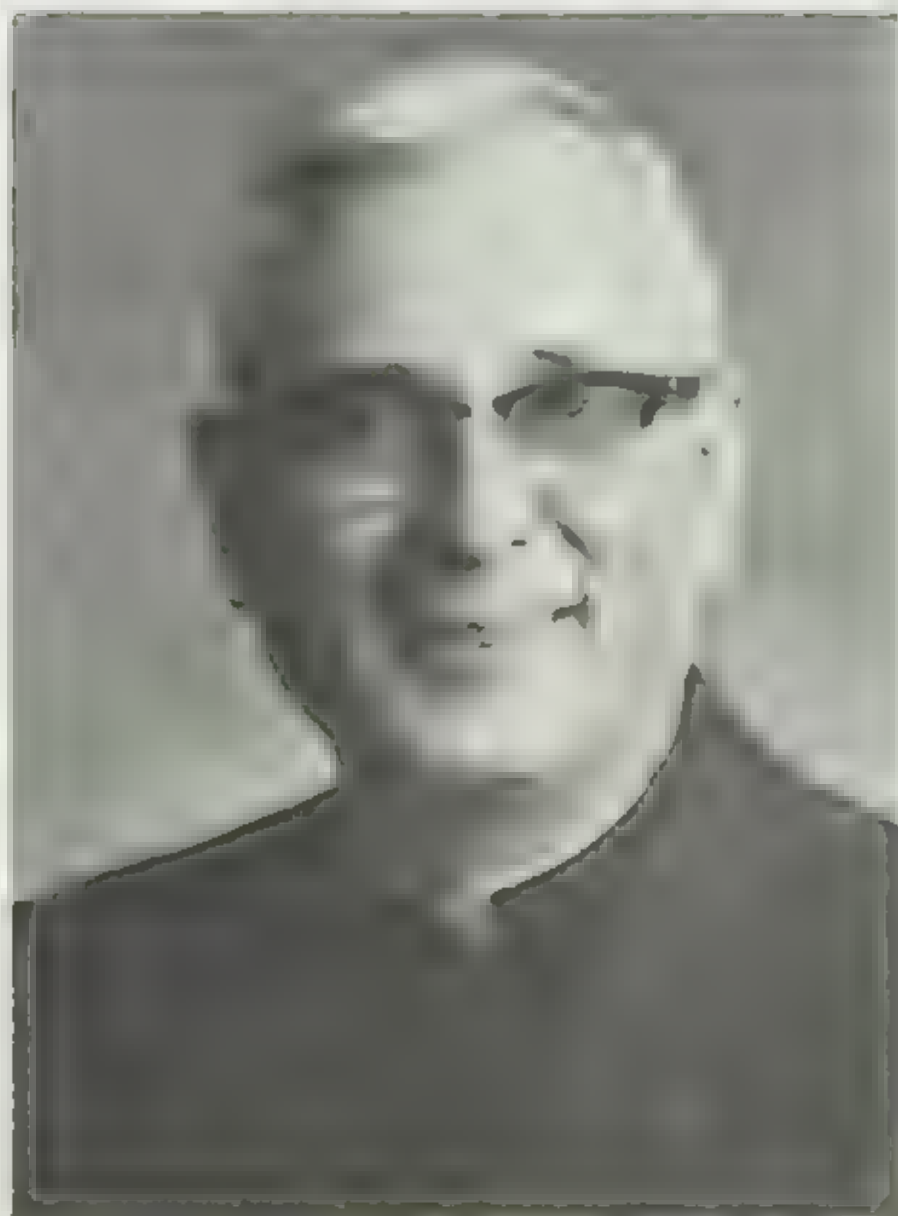

Everyone in the class of '75 loved Charlie, and he is greatly missed by all. Even though Charles Douglas Herner is not with us today physically, he is with us spiritually; and knowing Charlie and the way he inspired our lives has made it a little bit easier to find the happiness in a sad song.

RESERVE

SECTION

Spirit, pride, determination, and a few prayers helped take up where pure talent left off in helping the 1974 Flyer football take St. Paul's fourth Firelands Conference championship in seven tries.

The Saints had much to prove after losing so much talent from last year's championship team by graduation. However, with a nucleus of returning lettermen and much hard work, the team was able to continue the winning tradition at S.P.H.

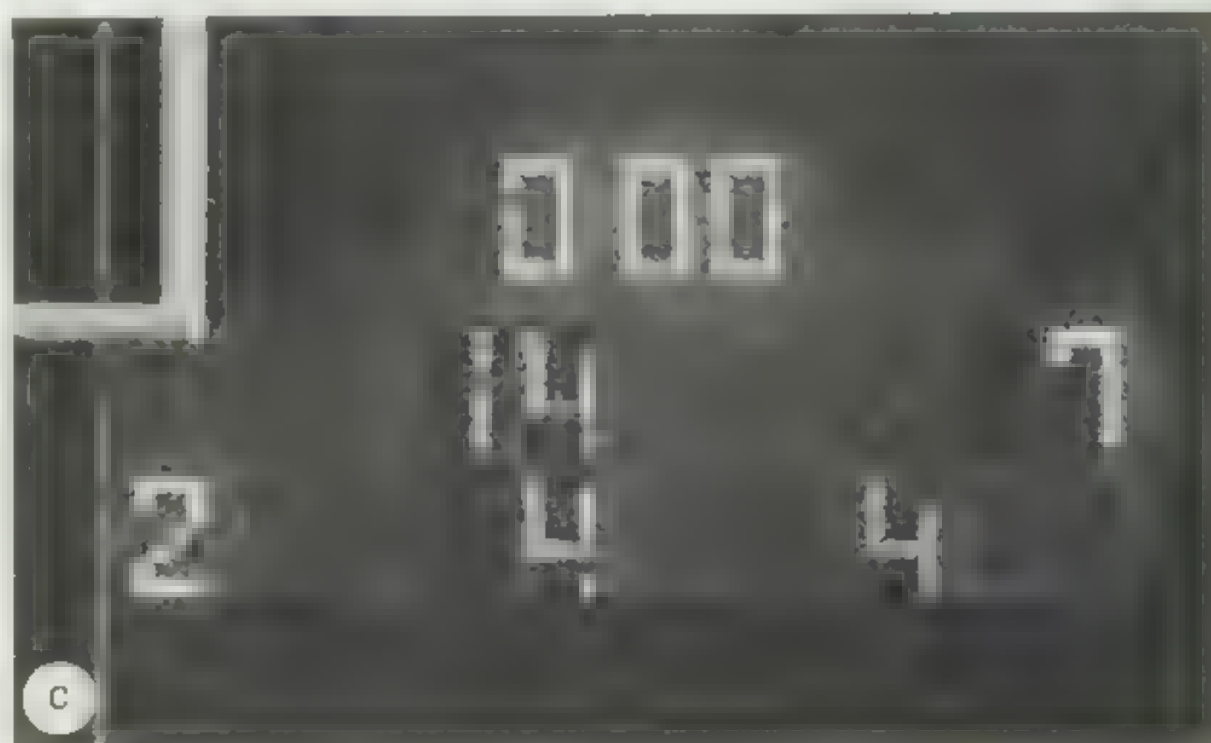

After a rather shaky start, the Flyers put it all together in their conference opener against arch-rival Edison; coming away not only with a convincing 21-0 victory, but also avenging last year's loss to the Chargers.

From then on the Big Red Machine was off and running. After an easy 20-6 triumph over South Central, the Flyers celebrated with a 14-7 victory over rugged Black River.

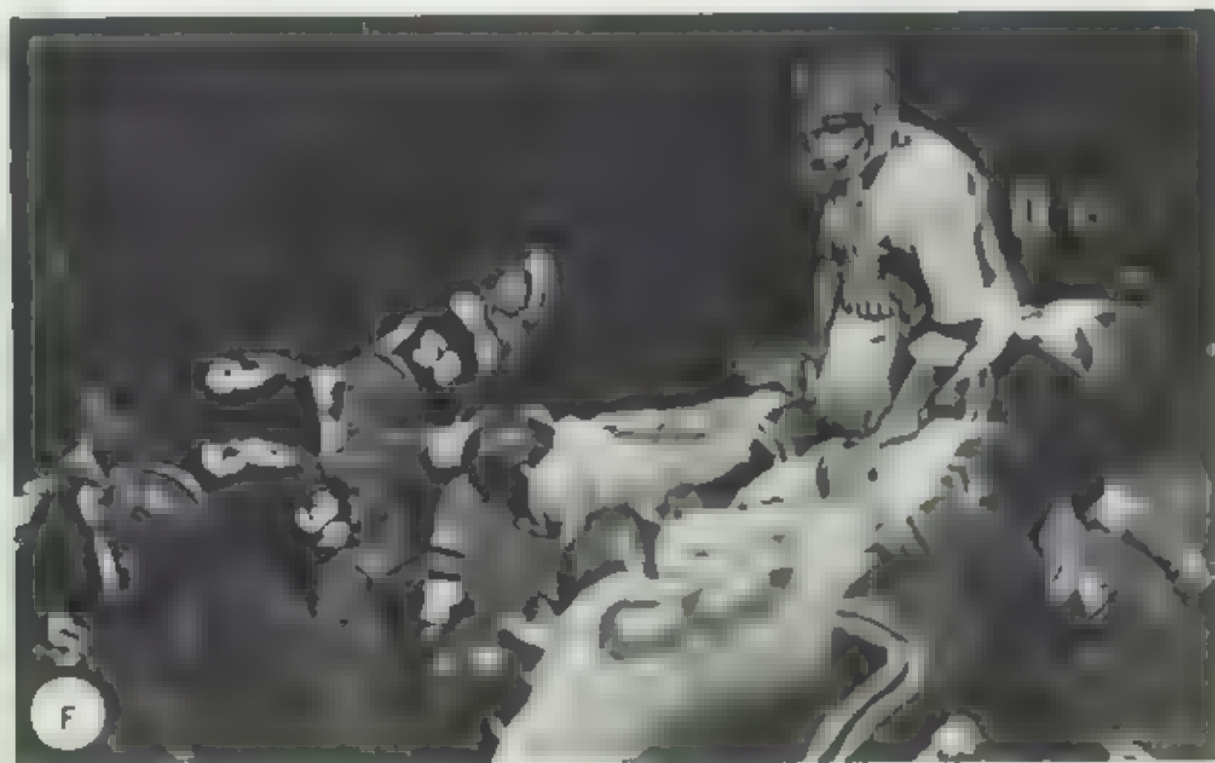

Bouncing back from a heart-breaking loss to Mapleton, the Saints pulled off two one-point victories over Western Reserve and New London, including the first St. Paul victory ever at New London.

With a share of the title already clinched, the Flyers swarmed all over a bunch of inspired Monroeville Eagles, coming away with a 14-7 victory and the conference crown.

Capping a surprising successful season, the mighty gridgers from St. Paul completely dominated Crestline for a 17-6 win and a final 8-1-1 season record.

Alge's CHAMPS

A. The 1974 Firelands Conference football champs.

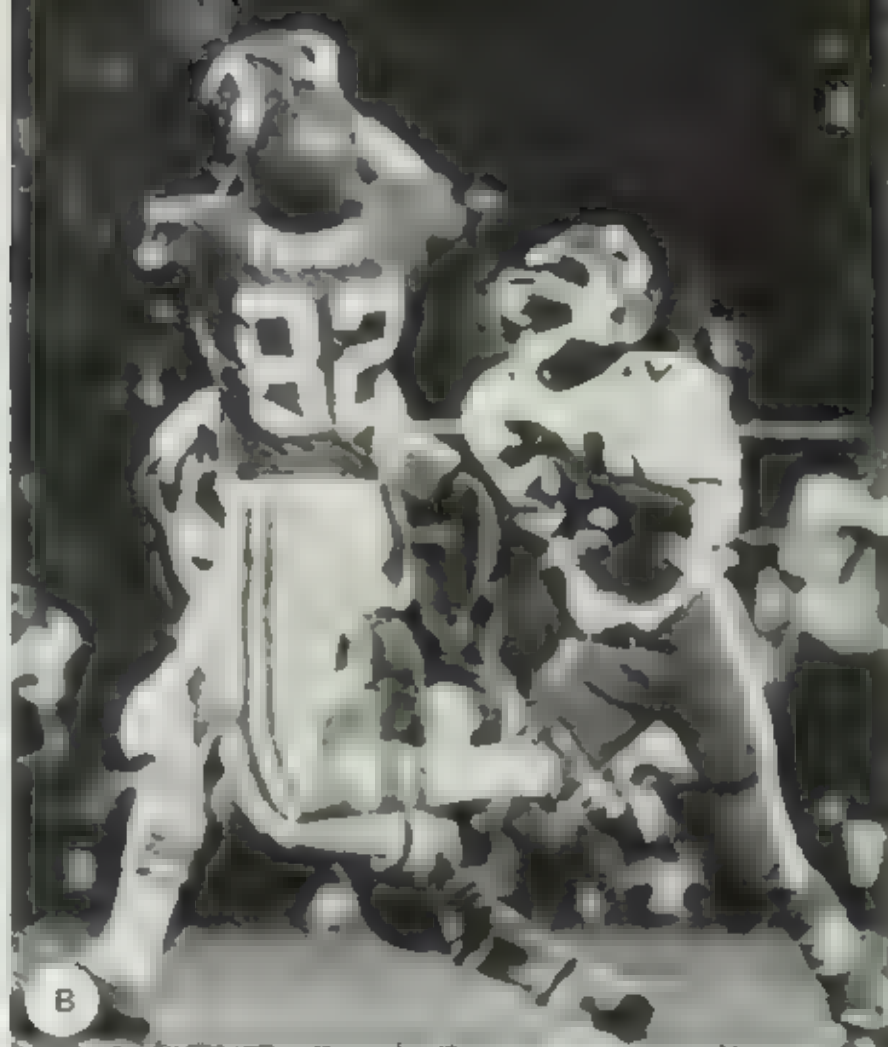

B. Flyers get last minute instructions in pre-game huddle.

C. Scoreboard reflects FC championship game with Monroeville!

D. Flyers tenacious defense led by Leo Schnellinger, Jerry Braden and Tony Borgia converge on Eagle ball carrier.

E. Coach Richard Algae, FC Coach of the Year, yells instructions to the huddle.

F. Quarterback Scott Tinker directs Flyers offensive line against Edison Chargers.

A. Sophomore Jerry Braden shows his tenacious pass rush in an attempt to block a Black River pass.
 B. St. Paul's leading receiver Keith Smith hauls in a crucial pass against New London while never breaking stride.
 C. Flyer huddle takes a time out from the rugged action.
 D. Junior halfback Chuck Borgeson plows for yardage behind a wall of blockers formed by John Weisenberger, Clint Tinker and Scott Tinker.
 E. Peering into the fog Coach Richards shouts instructions and encouragement to the team as the Flyer sideline looks on.
 F. Two of the senior tri-captains, Mike Watkins and Scott Tinker, strike fear into the heart of a Western Reserve ball carrier.
 G. Tri-captain Matt Gross on his way to breaking the school extra-point record.

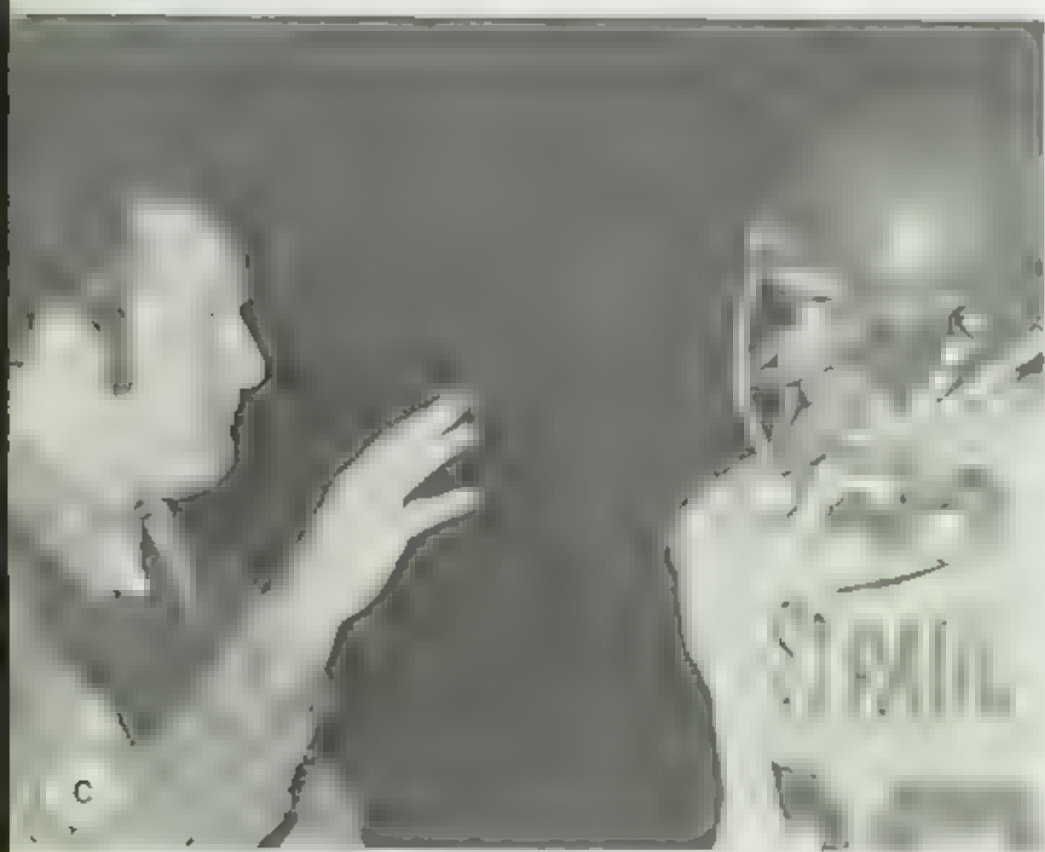

Flyers Pride Keeps Up Winning Tradition

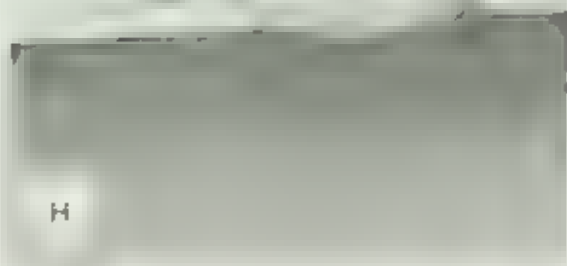

H. Senior all-conference end Kevin Smith bears down on a Roughrider ball carrier.

I. Leading rusher, Junior Chuck Borgeson pulls away from a slew of South Central defenders on his way to a record breaking 278 yards for the night.

Spirit Plays Key Role in a Winning Season

A. Senior signal caller Scott Tinker huddles over the lineman and calls the next offensive play.

B. Senior defensive end Kevin Mack reaches in vain to block a punt in the Black River ball game.

C. Defensive coordinator Coach Conry explains a change in defensive strategy during a time out. Mike Watkins, linebacker and defensive captain, listens intently.

D. Defensive ends, Kevin Smith and Kevin Mack, shut off the outside, leaving the New London ballcarrier nowhere to go, but down for a loss of yardage.

F. Mike Gfell and Keith Smith lead the Big Red machine out onto the field, to take on their next victim.

G. Head football Coach Alge gives a victory smile.

H. Senior football players restore the clubhouse dome at Whitney Field to its original color.

F.C. HOLMAN'S CHAMPS

The St. Paul Roundballers compiled a very fine 18-2 record, second best in the school's history. This was also good enough for a share of the Firelands Conference Championship for the very rewarding 1974-75 season.

With the first six starting lettermen returning along with Coach Roger Holman after a fine winning record last season, the Flyer squad returned with very high hopes on this season, only to be handed a heartbreaking loss to Old Fort in the Sectional Finals.

With four out of the starting five attaining mention in the Firelands Conference, they proved their dominance over the less experienced and less talented opponents by running up a win streak of twelve games before their first set back.

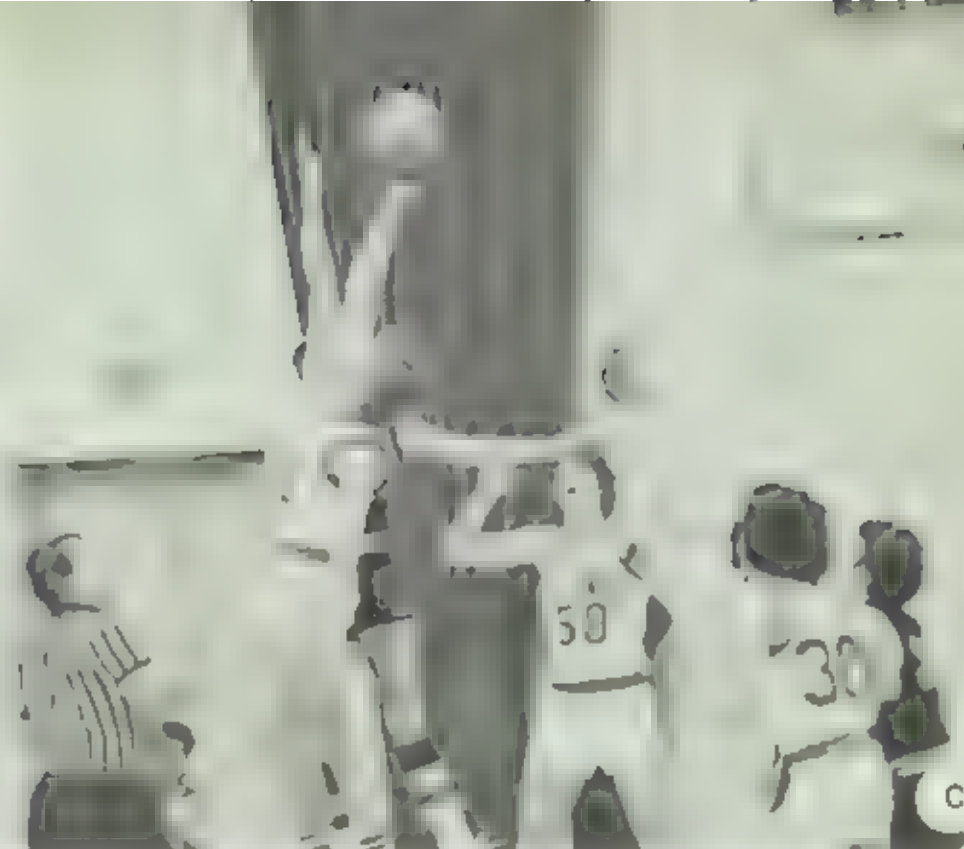

During the winning streak they achieved many highlights including the Champs of the tough Northwood Holiday Tournament, by defeating a very talented North Baltimore team by the score of 50-49. They also recorded a 71-61 white washing at the Junior High over the Monroeville Eagles.

Another highlight during the highly successful season was the establishing of the senior boy's Pep Club, "Six Packers".

The Six Packers and cheerleaders deserve alot of credit as well as the fans' support which had been the best for several years at St. Paul. They and the team should be highly commemorated for a very fine season.

Grapplers Have Surprisingly Successful Season

The 1974-75 wrestling team was one of the pleasant surprises of the year, making a strong showing in the Firelands Conference and sectional tournaments; finishing fifth and twelfth, respectively.

Conference champ Bill Niedzwicki took third in the sectionals, earning a berth in the district meet. John Weisenberger and Mark Stoll both were conference runner-ups and district alternates, taking fourth in the sectionals. Steve Sadler also took second in the conference, and Rick Mack got fourth. Coach Conry's first year as wrestling coach was rather successful.

New Coach Leads Flyers to 9-11 Season for '75

Duane Trares fires into a double play to end the inning.

St. Paul's baseball team had a fine season led by new head coach Dick Alge. The Flyers tied the Northern Division of the Firelands Conference with Edison, but lost in the playoff. The squad was 9-11 overall and 4-3 in the conference. The Flyers lost some heartbreakers. In the sectional they lost to Old Fort, 4-2. Old Fort later went on to the state.

Duane Trares led the Flyers with four home runs, while Tom Oliva batted 347 and Steve Preston had 86 strike outs during the season.

The St. Paul track team finished the season with a 2-9 dual meet record. The record doesn't clearly indicate the vast improvement the boys made during the season. The team consisted of mostly underclassman, (5 sophs and 9 freshman). Mike Watkins, Mike Gfell, Jerry Braden, and Brian Pusateri were standouts. Brian, a senior, finished the season with a total 107 1/2 points and his fourth track letter. Jerry just a sophomore qualified for the district and placed second in the conference meet. Mike broke his school record twice and qualified for the state meet. With most of the team returning next year good performances and record-falling should occur.

Flyer Golfers Earn First Conference Crown

The 1974 Flyers won the Firelands Conference golf championship, the first in St. Paul history. Led by Jim Fisher, who shot an 84 for the medalist trophy, the Saints finished with a team total of 352—eleven shots better than their closest opponent. All the other starters—Kevin McGrann, Jerry Didion, Eric Theisen and Steve Fries—also had fine rounds; none over 92. Other members of the FC champs include Greg Hipp, Ken Bleile, Jim Englert, Mark Hipp, Charlie Nardecchia, Denny Camp, John Hickey and Bob Hipp.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Under the leadership of its officers the Junior class treasury was expanded toward their goal. The officers leading the Juniors were: President Mary Beth Dixon, Vice-President Sue Kluding, Treasure Ellen Kline, and Secretary Cherly Collier, (pictured at right). Along with the help of advisors Paul Conry and Sister Mary Ligouri, S.N.D., the magazine drive and Christmas Dance were successful projects. These projects were not only successful in monetary value but also a factor in bringing unity to the class of '76.

Not only a success in projects of their own, the Juniors also held their own in extra-curricular activities. Members of the class were able to earn starting spots on varsity teams in boys' and girls' athletics. Junior participation in other activities such as S.A.E., Junior Achievement, and French Club showed their enthusiasm towards becoming involved in the school.

The class of '76 truly displays the "Spirit of 76" in heading toward their graduation and the country's 200th birthday.

Spirit of 78 Generates Enthusiasm

Taking one of the bigger steps of their life, the members of St. Paul's freshman class entered the doors of high school for the first time. Adaptation to high school life took time, but the frosh were soon a part of SPH after being initiated by the seniors. Freshman officers: President Ken Bleile, Vice-President Cheryl Berry, Secretary Carrie Amato, and Treasurer Bill Hohler along with advisors Mrs. Judy Bishop and Mr. Dick Alge, helped the class adapt to the new changes.

Strong participation in the classroom and extra-curricular activities present a bright future for the class of '78.
